

Adversary Archetype

Basic

This is a person who is interested in discrediting his/her partner or ex-partner. Wants to hurt him/her. Doesn't have an organization but looks for information on the internet useful for his/her purpose.

Technical Capabilities

He is a person who has skills through his own training that he has had. He has researched on the internet to know how to develop this type of attacks, he is looking for people on the internet to recommend Software and Hardware that he can use.

Targets

Couples who had a relationship, have a relationship with them, or are simply obsessed with this person.

Favored Means of Attack

Cyberbullying, phishing, telephone intimidation, discrediting of the person by publishing material such as private images, revenge porn, sexual blackmail. Also, such as control of social network accounts, location control, threats to physical and digital integrity.

Motivation

The motivation is social. They are motivated to control the person. In turn, he/she feels superior to him/her, feels that the person belongs to him/her and that he/she should control every aspect of his/her life.

Resources

They have been doing this type of violence for a long time; so they have physical and digital intimidation tactics. They know their partners' vulnerabilities and know how to control them. Many times they have economic resources to control, since they are the provider of the relationship.

Intent

Attempts to obtain information about every aspect of this person's life. Attempts to control and intimidate this person and take away any security or control this person has. Attempts to attack them emotionally and sometimes physically.

Constraints & Limitations

He is willing to do anything to control his partner. In many cases, even physical violence is used. For this reason, they turn to support groups and organizations that offer the person emotional and often legal help.

Internews

USABLE