

Human Rights Activist

Background

She is a communicator who has worked with women all her life. Doing radio and telling their stories. She has been persecuted for disseminating information on sexual and reproductive rights, presenting reports against violence and machismo. She is of another nationality and arrived in Ecuador more than 20 years ago.

Goals

- Disseminate information about women and culture. How do they carry out their activities? Tell their stories that have been hidden.
- To make visible the violence of which they are victims.
- To find more spaces to tell their stories.
- To make known the exploitation of their territory and how extractivism is not a sign of progress.

Threats

- Removal of content he publishes on social networks.
- Physical threats and threats to his family for his work.
- Identity theft.
- Attempted hacking of your social media and email accounts.

Strengths

- Some leading friends have started using Signal and she has also become interested in learning about digital security.
- She searches the Internet about digital security.
- She doubts about the security of the devices she uses.

Questions

- What to do if they try to kidnap me?
- How do I know if my social networks are tapped?
- Where do I back up sensitive information?
